- Understanding the relationship between why, what and how
- Organizational leadership
- Communication
- Relationship building
- Talent management
- Professional interviewing

"Houston A+ Challenge has been a wonderful partner with Humble ISD in our efforts to establish strong leadership skills in our New Leaders Academy. Together A+ and Humble ISD have created a challenging learning environment with a common language, understanding and vision for future district leaders. I value the support and guidance we have received from A+ throughout our journey."

~Dr. Tommy Price
Superintendent,
Boerne ISD

(formerly-Deputy Superintendent, Humble ISD)

This academy is designed to be a stand-alone or as part of an already existing district leadership academy.

Houston A+ Challenge is available for small group or individual coaching for those leaders enrolled in the ISD Leadership Academy. Small group/individual coaching begins with identifying leadership intentions, building action plans based on those intentions, and focusing on results connected with the leader's intentions.

CAMPUS LEARNING LEADERS

PRINCIPALS AND ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

Grounded in effective leadership practices, participants will learn how to navigate between and across both Management AND Leadership responsibilities. Campus administrators will learn and practice how to prioritize and execute on keeping the advancement of student learning as their primary focus and ultimate purpose.

These academies are tailored to participants' goals and afford time to assess, strategize and regroup as needed. Principal and assistant principal academies are driven by you and your work, and provide the flexible support you need.

"Honestly we had another organization and it was not as effective as Houston A+. The staff and knowledge that they have in our content does wonders for us as a teacher and the staff makes us feel as though we are colleagues and not customers. I look forward to working with you all next year."

~Erin McDaniel
Teacher, Math Specialist
Alief ISD

"In addition to teaching me the "what", Houston A+ also afforded me opportunities to authentically practice the "how" of instructional coaching."

~Candace Fleming
Skills Specialist
Aldine ISD

"Torrey has been such a huge asset to me and our campus by providing us with resources and much needed information on how to engage and teach our students. She has helped me tremendously by being an amazing example of an educator who loves what she does."

~Thanh Nguyen

COACHING FOR PERFORMANCE

Everybody needs a coach. Come engage in peer networking, problem-solving and real-world action research with other coaches across the city. During this academy we will collectively share expertise in effective instructional strategies for increasing access and equity, assessment for learning, engaging in crucial conversations and coaching cycles. Participants will find fresh ways to look at various aspects of their jobs and gather different perspectives from others across the city.

Possible topics for study include:

- Time Management and Accountability
- Listening and Crucial Conversations
- Creating a Partnership with Teachers
- Effective Feedback
- Coaching Cycles

NEW TEACHERS

LEADING A CLASSROOM OF STUDENTS

First year teachers face many exciting challenges. This academy will allow teachers to build a community of support and make connections with other new teachers in the same and surrounding districts. A myriad of learning opportunities will be offered such as effective classroom management strategies, how to access and make sense of state standards, ways to reference and effectively use curriculum documents and ideas for effectively implementing instructional practices. New teachers will be equipped with resources and strategies that will allow them to provide quality instruction for all students and have a successful year.

Possible topics for study include:

- Classroom Management
- Instructional Strategies
- Backward Design
- Data Based Decision Making
